Our Tech 1912-2003...

Somethings Change...

Some Stay the Same... But It Will Always Be Our Tech

The World Around Us.....

World Events 2002-2003

Saddam Hussein, in September agreed to allow UN weapons inspectors to return to his country unconditionally after months of warnings of a preemptive military strike by the U.S. However, Hussein reverses himself and refused to grant inspectors access to sites, including his array of palaces. Hussein continues to taunt the U.S with his trademark phrase, "In targeting Iraq, America is acting for the Zionists who are killing the Heroic people of Palestine, destroying their properties, murdering their children, and working to impose their domination on the whole world." Saddam refused to leave Iraq and the U.S. declared war. This conflict caused many heated debates between anti-war and pro-war activists. Tech students were even affected when several of our recent graduates were sent to various places in the Middle East.

Other world events: North Korea has nuclear weapons now. The US is in talks with North Korea now since their missiles could reach the West Coast. Also, a deadly virus, Severe Acute Respiratory Syndrome (SARS), is spreading across Asia and several other places around the world. It is believed to have started in China and spread through the people traveling by airplanes.

Pop Culture in 2002-2003

Ozzy Osbourne, aging rocker, opened his home and exposed his family to the world in The Osbournes, MTV's latest reality show (jumping on the bandwagon of reality shows which have been a staple on several channels). Not only was it MTV's highest rated show, but it also won an Emmy Award in September for best reality series. On other reality shows, bachelors and bachelorettes dated in front of all of America, only to break up a month later. We also watched Kelly win the American Idol in 2002 and it's back this year to find a new winner.

Spider-man, The Two Towers, Dare Devil, Chicago, and Harry Potter 2 are just a few of the movies to hit the big screen this past season. Despite controversy, rap icon Eminem continued success with his movie debut in the film 8-mile, whose co-star was Brittany Murphy. Not only was the film's soundtrack successful, but Eminem's most recent release of The Eminem Show tore up the charts as well.

Voices in Our Heart

Tragedy Takes the Lives of Three Tech Students Over Summer

Over the course of our lives we encounter and involve ourselves in many friendships. Throughout the course of these friendships, we grow closer and get to know each other. We come to know certain people, who we believe, will be with us forever, or at least until graduation day. However, when tragedy occurs, we come back to reality. This year, the class of 2003 lost three students: John Garcia, Willie Ivy, and Whitney Jones. All of these deaths occurred within a short amount of time this summer. These students are dearly missed by many.

We never know how much effect a person has on us and our lives until they are gone. We continue to remember them and give our condolences to their families and close friends. Rest in peace, fallen angels of 2003. May we remember your voices in our hearts and never forget the way you touched us while you were here.

Above: Willie Ivy was good at many things but one of his best talents was music. Here, he is playing the drums in his best Sunday suit.

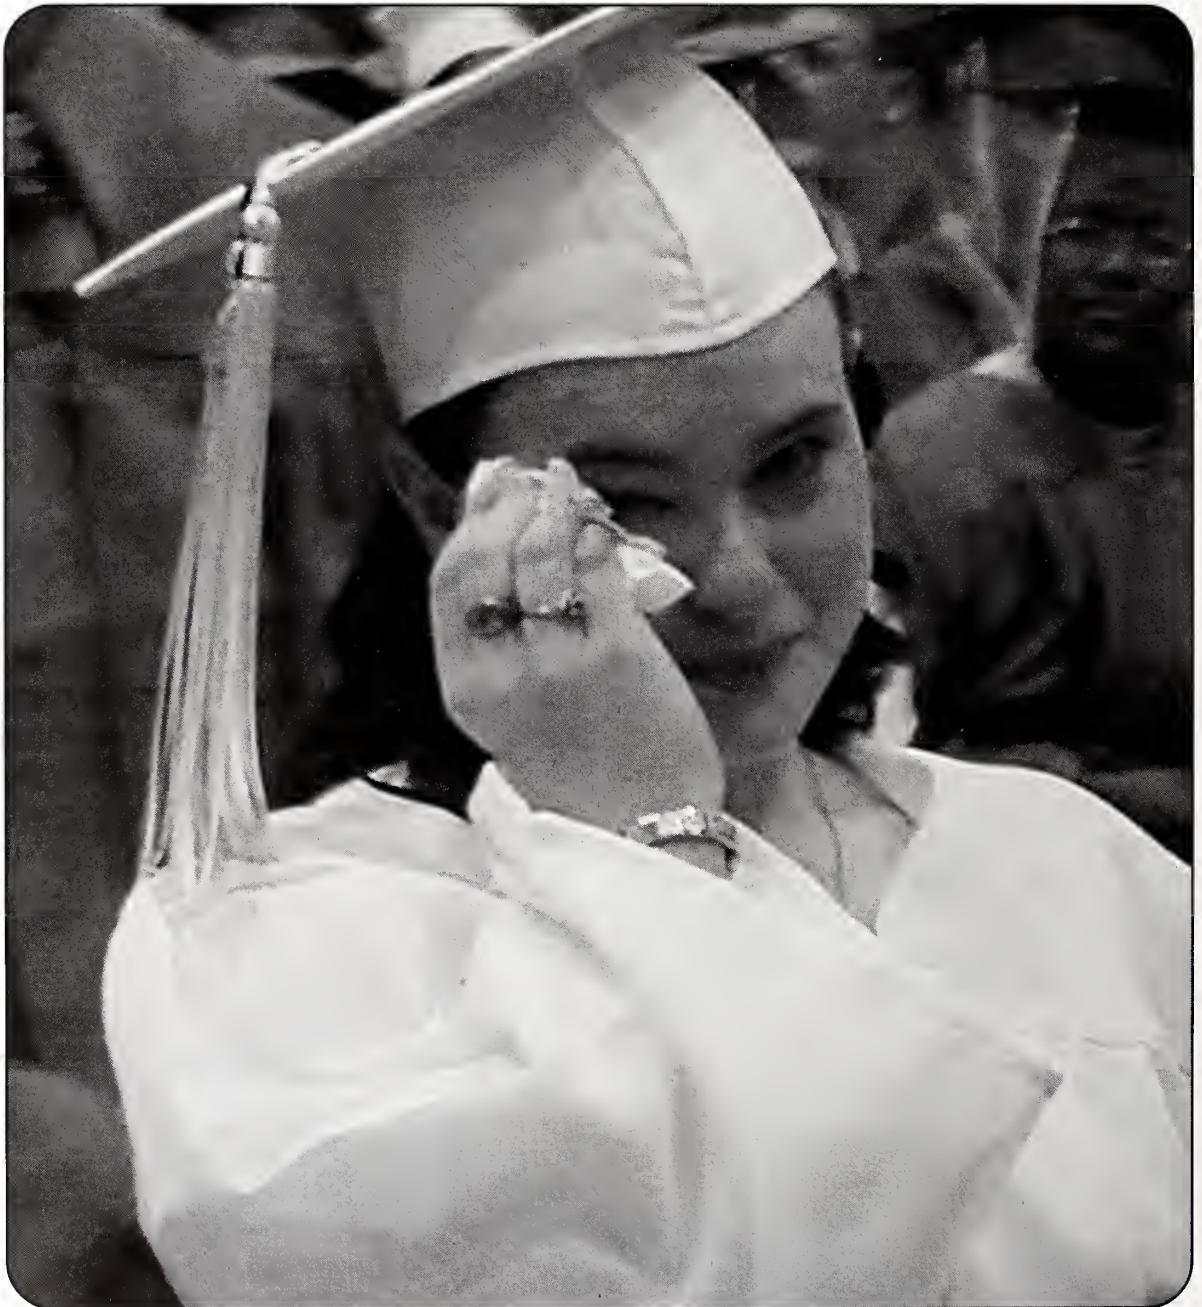

Where have you gone,
 I couldn't find you today.
 I thought I had you forever,
 but you went away.
 I looked everywhere I could look,
 and you were nowhere to be found.
 All I have left of you,
 Is a diminishing sound.
 I can still see your face;
 That too will soon be gone.
 The picture will fade,
 but your memory will live on.

- E.S.Y.

In spring, a lot of important moments happen. Students perform their last school musical, they are honored one last time for their school achievements, and they finally graduate into real life. Here are some “echoes” from last spring.

Corey Cole: Diving Champion

When you hear Corey's name, the first thing that pops into your head is accomplishment. He is a member of an elite diving team, the Indiana Stars, a tumbler with the Jireh Sports Airborne Acrobats, and of course a diver on our very own Titan team. Corey finds these places play a significant role in his accomplishments.

Not only did Corey win the state diving title this year, he was also the first IPS Diving Champion since 1929. Additionally, he is the State Swimmer/Diver Champion in IPS since Broad Ripple's Dwight Searcy (1956), the first African/American Diving Champion in Indiana, and one of two African/American High School Diving Champion ever in the United States. At Carmel he beat the sectional record by more than 118 points at sectional competition.

"Corey has tremendous physical strength," John Wingfield said, who has been his coach at the IUPUI Natatorium for the past four years.

His competitors admire diving against him, too. "It came down to the last dive just like I thought it would. There's nothing better than a close competition like that," said Scott Coyle, who was Corey's competitor at State Competition. Corey was able to beat Scott Coyle by more than 19 points.

"If Corey continues to improve at his current rate, he could possibly be the first African-American to compete on the Olympic Diving Team," said Paul Canada, Jireh Sports coach. We all wish him the best luck in the future and hope to see him in the next Olympics.
